Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST the remuneration report is considered warranted: There is a material disconnect between bonus outcomes and Company performance for the year under review. This follows concerns regarding the selection of Headline EBITDA as the primary metric to determine FY2021 bonus outcomes, which is not considered to utilise an appropriately stretching target range or adequately acknowledge the Company's financial position which has been materially affected by COVID-19. Concerns also persist in relation to the selection and disclosure of personal objectives. It is noted that the Remuneration Committee has exercised discretion to reduce the formulaic outcomes by 22%, however, the revised outcomes remain significant (100% of salary for the CEO and c. 81% of salary for the CFO) and do not effectively delineate Company performance during FY2021 or adequately acknowledge the impact of COVID-19, which has caused the Company to seek government support and suspend the dividend. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST the remuneration report is considered warranted: There is a material disconnect between bonus outcomes and Company performance for the year under review. *Voting Policy Rationale: Items 4-9A vote FOR these Directors is warranted as no significant concerns have been identified. Item 10A An ABSTAIN vote regarding the re-election of Maurice Thompson is warranted: * He served on the boards of several Greensill Capital group companies, including as Chair of the parent company until early 2021, Chair of the UK subsidiary until 2018 and continues to serve as Chair of the supervisory board of Greensill Bank AG (based on available information). Greensill Capital collapsed during 2021 in a high-profile failure. While the various ongoing investigations into Greensill Capital's collapse have not provided any failings explicitly linked to Maurice Thompson to date, his senior involvement on the boards of various Greensill companies raises questions about his accountability for potential failures of governance and oversight at Greensill Capital which are as yet unanswered, and could, if answered negatively in future, be relevant to his suitability as a NED and a member of the Audit Committee at WH Smith plc. A vote FOR this resolution is warranted for those shareholders in markets which have a fiduciary responsibility to vote either for or against and who do not recognise abstention as a valid option.*

*Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this item is warranted because: * Telefonica completed two significant transactions in 2021: the O2/Virgin joint-venture and Telxius' telecommunications towers division sale (see Material Company Updates section) for which the board rewarded both executive directors with one-off awards at maximum opportunity of 100 percent of salary. The board also considered Telefonica's outperforming the local index and sector peers in 2021. * Telefonica is the sole European telco to have a remuneration policy provision allowing for the granting of one-off awards – Deutsche Telekom's supervisory board proposes to eliminate a similar clause at the company's 2022 AGM. * Excluding this one-off award opportunity, the remuneration arrangements with management already are one of the most competitive among European peers. * Without downplaying the significance of these two transactions, these one-off awards have further misaligned executive pay with company performance in comparison with peers, including 2021's 3.69x multiple of median, while management's pay package is one of the most competitive among European peers, and Telefonica has been an underperforming stock since incumbent chair/CEO took on his position in April 2016.*

		Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this remuneration report is warranted. Yannick Bollore is considered as an executive of the group by ISS due to the level and structure of his remuneration, which are comparable to those of Vivendi's management board members. His remuneration report falls short of good market practice because notably as: * Information on his short-term variable remuneration as chairman and CEO of Havas is very limited; * One of the one-off awards lacks rationale; and * Despite not being granted performance shares for the year under review, Mr. Bollore received an exceptional payment considered a replacement for the LTIP, the conditions of which appear advantageous for the corporate officers.

Voting Policy Rationale: Votes FOR these remuneration reports of Arnaud de Puyfontaine, Gilles Alix, Frederic Crepin, Simon Gillham, Herve Philippe and Stephane Roussel are warranted (Items 7-8, 10-13) although the following concerns are raised: * The level of details regarding the achievement on some of the non-financial bonus criteria is limited; * The level of stringency of the financial performance targets raises questions; and * The one-off remuneration awarded in place of the LTIP appears advantageous for the corporate officers. The main reasons for support are: * The transparency on the bonus performance achievement improved, * The one-off awards remain well below the cap voted in the policy. A vote AGAINST Item 9 (Cedric de Baillencourt) is warranted because: * The remunerations that he receives as executives of the Bollere Group, main shareholder of Vivendi, creates an important conflict of interest. These are neither properly tackled by the company's procedures nor likely to be balanced out by the remunerations that he receives at Vivendi; and * Given his executive functions in another listed group, the company failed to properly demonstrate the link between his activities carried out for Vivendi and the remuneration paid by Vivendi; Blended Rationale: Votes FOR these remuneration reports of Arnaud de Puyfontaine, Gilles Alix, Frederic Crepin, Simon Gillham, Herve Philippe and Stephane Roussel are warranted (Items 7-8, 10-13) although the following concerns are raised: * The level of details regarding the achievement on some of the non-financial bonus criteria is limited; * The level of stringency of the financial performance targets raises questions; and * The one-off remuneration awarded in place of the LTIP appears advantageous for the corporate officers. The main reasons for support are: * The transparency on the bonus performance achievement improved, * The one-off awards remain well below the cap voted in the policy. A vote AGAINST Item 9 (Cedric de Baillencourt) is warranted because: * The remunerations that he receives as executives of the Bollere Group, main shareholder of Vivendi, creates an important conflict of interest. These are neither properly tackled by the company's procedures nor likely to be balanced out by the remunerations that he receives at Vivendi; and * Given his executive functions in another listed group, the company failed to properly demonstrate the link between his activities carried out for Vivendi and the remuneration paid by Vivendi; Blended Rationale: Votes FOR these remuneration reports of Arnaud de Puyfontaine, Gilles Alix, Frederic Crepin, Simon Gillham, Herve Philippe and Stephane Roussel are warranted (Items 7-8, 10-13) although the following concerns are raised: * The level of details regarding the achievement on some of the non-financial bonus criteria is limited; * The level of stringency of the financial performance targets raises questions; and * The one-off remuneration awarded in place of the LTIP appears advantageous for the corporate officers. The main reasons for support are: * The transparency on the bonus performance achievement improved, * The one-off awards remain well below the cap voted in the policy. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote FOR these resolutions is warranted, although this is not without concern for shareholders: * If the Company were to issue Equity Convertible Notes and a trigger event were to occur, causing them to convert into ordinary shares, this would result in significant dilution to non-participating shareholders. The main reasons for support are: * Such authorities are common proposals at UK banks and are intended to apply in extreme circumstances only; and * The conversion into ordinary shares would require the CET1 ratio to fall to a level which would denote significant capital weakness well beyond the Company's current position and minimum regulatory requirements. Blended Rationale: A vote FOR these resolutions is warranted, although this is not without concern for shareholders: * If the Company were to issue Equity Convertible Notes and a trigger event were to occur, causing them to convert into ordinary shares, this would result in significant dilution to non-participating shareholders. 2		Approve Discharge of Management Board for Fiscal Year 2021	Mgmt	Yes	For	For		For	For	No	No	No

*Voting Policy Rationale: Votes FOR the discharge of the management board and the supervisory board are warranted as there is no evidence that the boards did not fulfill their fiduciary duties in the year under review, though this is not without concerns: * The management board introduced a five-point plan, which allegedly "provides a clear path to closure of the U.S. glyphosate litigation, which will allow our company, our customers, and our shareholders to move on, put the uncertainty behind us, and focus on our performance, innovations, and contributions to society." Nevertheless, this was only introduced in May 2021, leading to concerns that management (and by extension the supervisory board) was too slow in addressing the Monsanto fallout head on and too focused on the litigation rather than allaying the legitimate concerns of its shareholders and of stakeholders worldwide. * The supervisory board made discretionary adjustments to the management board's annual bonus in the year under review, leading to large bonus payouts for management despite ongoing and significant litigation against the company, which may raise legitimate concerns for shareholders.*

*Blended Rationale: Votes FOR the discharge of the management board and the supervisory board are warranted as there is no evidence that the boards did not fulfill their fiduciary duties in the year under review, though this is not without concerns: * The management board introduced a five-point plan, which allegedly "provides a clear path to closure of the U.S. glyphosate litigation, which will allow our company, our customers, and our shareholders to move on, put the uncertainty behind us, and focus on our performance, innovations, and contributions to society." The main reasons for support are: * Such authorities are common proposals at UK banks and are intended to apply in extreme circumstances only; and * The conversion into ordinary shares would require the CET1 ratio to fall to a level which would denote significant capital weakness well beyond the Company's current position and minimum regulatory requirements.

2		Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	Yes	For	Against		Against	For	No	Yes	Yes
		Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee was sufficiently responsive to last year's failed say-on-pay vote by lowering the CEO's FY22 equity grant by $10 million and making a commitment not to similarly adjust performance metrics for previously granted awards. However, pay-for-performance concerns are raised for the year in review. The committee made a sizable adjustment to free cash flow for FY21, which appears to affect the performance metrics for both the short- and long-term incentive awards, and the adjustment is not well-explained. In addition, long-term incentive awards shifted from a three-year performance period to a single, annual performance period for the two primary metrics.
		Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee was sufficiently responsive to last year's failed say-on-pay vote by lowering the CEO's FY22 equity grant by $10 million and making a commitment not to similarly adjust performance metrics for previously granted awards. However, pay-for-performance concerns are raised for the year in review. The committee made a sizable adjustment to free cash flow for FY21, which appears to affect the performance metrics for both the short- and long-term incentive awards, and the adjustment is not well-explained. In addition, long-term incentive awards shifted from a three-year performance period to a single, annual performance period for the two primary metrics.

Voting Policy Rationale: A vote FOR this item is warranted given that it is positive for shareholders to have the ability to vote on severance amounts that exceed market norms, the proposal applies only to future severance arrangements, leaving current agreements unaffected, and the proposal offers flexibility as to when the board may seek shareholder approval of a new or renewed severance arrangement, such as at the next annual meeting.

*Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST the remuneration policy is warranted because: * The Company is seeking to increase bonus opportunity from 2x to 3x. salary. The amplified bonus opportunity would create the highest bonus potential, as a multiple of salary, for any company in the FTSE 10. It is acknowledged that the higher limit requires higher performance, only materializing on outperformance of the Company's new strategic targets. It is also noted that there would be lower pay for below target performance. In addition, the targets are firmly rooted in the new strategy and there is a clear link between the profit and sales objectives, as announced in June 2021, and new pay arrangements. However, these mitigating factors do not offset concerns with the quantum; the increased emphasis on short-term performance; or the precedent that this level of bonus opportunity would create. Further, the demerger will decrease the Company's market cap and the complexity of its operations. The proposed increase does not appear consistent with this background.*

Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While acknowledging the company's strong financial and share price performance for the year in review, a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is identified and underscored by several concerns regarding incentive programs. First, annual incentives, while based on an objective scorecard, lack clear disclosure of threshold and maximum goals for many metrics. This limits investor ability to assess payouts and goal rigor from year to year. The committee also used discretion to increase payouts in FY21. Long-term incentives, while mostly performance-based, target merely median performance and lack a cap on vesting for negative TSR. This is particularly concerning as PSUs have been earned above target for the last four performance cycles. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote FOR these resolutions is warranted, although this is not without concern for shareholders: * If the Company were to issue Regulatory Capital Convertible Instruments and a trigger event were to occur, causing them to convert into ordinary shares, this would result in significant dilution to non-participating shareholders. The main reasons for support are: * Such authorities are common proposals at UK banks and are intended to apply in extreme circumstances only; and * The conversion into ordinary shares would require the CET1 ratio to fall to a level which would denote significant capital weakness well beyond the Company's current position and minimum regulatory requirements. Blended Rationale: A vote FOR these resolutions is warranted, although this is not without concern for shareholders: * If the Company were to issue Regulatory Capital Convertible Instruments and a trigger event were to occur, causing them to convert into ordinary shares, this would result in significant dilution to non-participating shareholders. 2		Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	Yes	For	Against		Against	For	No	Yes	Yes
Voting Policy Rationale: The increase in reported CEO pay is primarily the result of a sizable, one-time award of stock appreciation rights. Although the CEO's annual LTI is entirely based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, there are significant concerns regarding the structure of the one-time award, as the award lacks rigorous performance-vesting criteria, or even a premium exercise price. This structural concern is heightened given the substantial pay opportunities this off-cycle award provides. The executive pay program's reliance on discretion to determine annual incentives remains an ongoing concern, even when such discretion is guided by performance assessments against consistent metrics. While the company's recent improved performance may provide context to an increase in performance year pay, some investors may nonetheless question an increase in the CEO's annual-cycle award while long-term TSR lagged the S&P 500 and when the regular award was preceded by such a sizable one-time award. In light of these concerns, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated and a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Blended Rationale: The increase in reported CEO pay is primarily the result of a sizable, one-time award of stock appreciation rights. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote FOR the remuneration policy of Philippe Guillemot (item 14) is warranted although the following concerns are raised: * The new CEO's remuneration package shows a significant increase with little rationale; * Corporate officers are guaranteed the payment of a part of their bonuses; * The performance conditions attached to the LTIP are not guaranteed to be long-term oriented; * The performance conditions attached to the termination package are deemed to lack stringency; * The policy authorizes the post-mandate vesting of awards. The main reasons for support are: * The proposed package is broadly in line with Mr. Guillemot's past position's remuneration, justifying a higher package to attract an experienced CEO; * The LTIP does not include the ordinary shares that were subject to a problematic performance condition; * Company's past practice is for unvested preference shares to lapse; * The application of the previous CEO remuneration policy if this policy is rejected would not be considered more advantageous. A vote AGAINST the remuneration policy of Olivier Mallet (item 15) is warranted because: * The CFO is guaranteed the payment of 100% of his bonus for the period of the year he is a corporate officer. * He still benefits from the problematic part of the 2021 LTIP with ordinary shared vesting each year just for reaching EUR 8.09 (see item 12) * The policy authorizes the post-mandate vesting of awards. Blended Rationale: A vote FOR the remuneration policy of Philippe Guillemot (item 14) is warranted although the following concerns are raised: * The new CEO's remuneration package shows a significant increase with little rationale; * Corporate officers are guaranteed the payment of a part of their bonuses; * The performance conditions attached to the LTIP are not guaranteed to be long-term oriented; * The performance conditions attached to the termination package are deemed to lack stringency; * The policy authorizes the post-mandate vesting of awards. Voting Policy Rationale: There are several ongoing pay program and disclosure concerns. The company's award determinations remain discretionary, and incentive programs lack disclosed performance metrics and quantified goals. Disclosure around individual performance assessments is also poor, and the design allows for such considerations to have a potentially large impact on annual bonuses. Executives again received very large equity awards that lack performance vesting criteria. Moreover, the CEO's and COO's security costs are exceedingly large. In light of these concerns, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Blended Rationale: There are several ongoing pay program and disclosure concerns. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST the remuneration report is considered warranted on account of: * Former CEO Steve Rowe's notice is set to be served on his last day of employment with the Company on 5 July 2022. However, in line with best practice, his formal notice should have commenced on 10 March 2022, when his departure was formally announced to the market. This has given rise to a "notice of notice" scenario. Concerns have also been noted – but are not being highlighted as contributory factors towards the adverse vote recommendation – that the Remuneration Committee applied discretion in granting Steve Rowe a bonus in FY2021/22, despite being under notice before the bonus payment date. Also, the salary positioning for CEO Stuart Machin and Co-CEO Katie Bickerstaffe, has been highlighted as a matter of concern, given that i) the directors effectively share the leadership role, and ii) the salary levels do not appear to appropriately acknowledge the decline in the Company's market capitalisation in recent years. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST the remuneration report is considered warranted on account of: * Former CEO Steve Rowe's notice is set to be served on his last day of employment with the Company on 5 July 2022. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. CEO Nabi's pay declined for the year in review, consisting only of base salary, following her $280 million sign-on RSU award in the prior year. However, a review of the pay program reveals persistent concerning features. Specifically, NEO pay consisted primarily of base salary and equity awards that lack performance vesting conditions. Investors increasingly expect a meaningful portion of incentives to be tied to pre-set performance goals. Further, there are renewed concerns regarding high base salaries without a compelling rationale. Notably, these significant concerns for the year in review follow multiple years of problematic pay decisions at the company. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. *Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this item is warranted because: * Telefonica completed two significant transactions in 2021: the O2/Virgin joint-venture and Telxius' telecommunications towers division sale (see Material Company Updates section) for which the board rewarded both executive directors with one-off awards at maximum opportunity of 100 percent of salary. The board also considered Telefonica's outperforming the local index and sector peers in 2021. * Telefonica is the sole European telco to have a remuneration policy provision allowing for the granting of one-off awards – Deutsche Telekom's supervisory board proposes to eliminate a similar clause at the company's 2022 AGM. * Excluding this one-off award opportunity, the remuneration arrangements with management already are one of the most competitive among European peers. * Without downplaying the significance of these two transactions, these one-off awards have further misaligned executive pay with company performance in comparison with peers, including 2021's 3.69x multiple of median, while management's pay package is one of the most competitive among European peers, and Telefonica has been an underperforming stock since incumbent chair/CEO took on his position in April 2016.*

6		Approve Compensation of Yannick Bollore, Chairman of the Supervisory Board	Mgmt	Yes	For	Against		Against	For	No	Yes	Yes
Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this remuneration report is warranted. Yannick Bollore is considered as an executive of the group by ISS due to the level and structure of his remuneration, which are comparable to those of Vivendi's management board members. His remuneration report falls short of good market practice because notably as: * Information on his short-term variable remuneration as chairman and CEO of Havas is very limited; * One of the one-off awards lacks rationale; and * Despite not being granted performance shares for the year under review, Mr. Bollore received an exceptional payment considered a replacement for the LTIP, the conditions of which appear advantageous for the corporate officers. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST this remuneration report is warranted. 7		Approve Compensation of Arnaud de Puyfontaine, Chairman of the Management Board	Mgmt	Yes	For	For		For	For	No	No	No
Voting Policy Rationale: Votes FOR these remuneration reports of Arnaud de Puyfontaine, Gilles Alix, Frederic Crepin, Simon Gillham, Herve Philippe and Stephane Roussel are warranted (Items 7-8, 10-13) although the following concerns are raised: * The level of details regarding the achievement on some of the non-financial bonus criteria is limited; * The level of stringency of the financial performance targets raises questions; and * The one-off remuneration awarded in place of the LTIP appears advantageous for the corporate officers. The main reasons for support are: * The transparency on the bonus performance achievement improved, * The one-off awards remain well below the cap voted in the policy. A vote AGAINST Item 9 (Cedric de Baillencourt) is warranted because: * The remunerations that he receives as executives of the Bollere Group, main shareholder of Vivendi, creates an important conflict of interest. These are neither properly tackled by the company's procedures nor likely to be balanced out by the remunerations that he receives at Vivendi; and * Given his executive functions in another listed group, the company failed to properly demonstrate the link between his activities carried out for Vivendi and the remuneration paid by Vivendi; Blended Rationale: Votes FOR these remuneration reports of Arnaud de Puyfontaine, Gilles Alix, Frederic Crepin, Simon Gillham, Herve Philippe and Stephane Roussel are warranted (Items 7-8, 10-13) although the following concerns are raised: * The level of details regarding the achievement on some of the non-financial bonus criteria is limited; * The level of stringency of the financial performance targets raises questions; and * The one-off remuneration awarded in place of the LTIP appears advantageous for the corporate officers. The main reasons for support are: * The transparency on the bonus performance achievement improved, * The one-off awards remain well below the cap voted in the policy. A vote AGAINST Item 9 (Cedric de Baillencourt) is warranted because: * The remunerations that he receives as executives of the Bollere Group, main shareholder of Vivendi, creates an important conflict of interest. These are neither properly tackled by the company's procedures nor likely to be balanced out by the remunerations that he receives at Vivendi; and * Given his executive functions in another listed group, the company failed to properly demonstrate the link between his activities carried out for Vivendi and the remuneration paid by Vivendi;
14		Approve Remuneration Policy of Supervisory Board Members and Chairman	Mgmt	Yes	For	Against		Against	For	No	Yes	Yes
Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this remuneration policy is warranted because of: * The lack of transparency on the remuneration of the chairman of the supervisory board, who is also an executive of a subsidiary; * The proposed 15% increase of the Chairman's remuneration with limited rationale; and * The possible grants of performance shares to non-executive members of the supervisory board. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST this remuneration policy is warranted because of: * The lack of transparency on the remuneration of the chairman of the supervisory board, who is also an executive of a subsidiary; * The proposed 15% increase of the Chairman's remuneration with limited rationale; and * The possible grants of performance shares to non-executive members of the supervisory board.

Voting Policy Rationale: Votes FOR the discharge of the management board and the supervisory board are warranted as there is no evidence that the boards did not fulfill their fiduciary duties in the year under review, though this is not without concerns: * The management board introduced a five-point plan, which allegedly "provides a clear path to closure of the U.S. glyphosate litigation, which will allow our company, our customers, and our shareholders to move on, put the uncertainty behind us, and focus on our performance, innovations, and contributions to society." Nevertheless, this was only introduced in May 2021, leading to concerns that management (and by extension the supervisory board) was too slow in addressing the Monsanto fallout head on and too focused on the litigation rather than allaying the legitimate concerns of its shareholders and of stakeholders worldwide. * The supervisory board made discretionary adjustments to the management board's annual bonus in the year under review, leading to large bonus payouts for management despite ongoing and significant litigation against the company, which may raise legitimate concerns for shareholders. Blended Rationale: Votes FOR the discharge of the management board and the supervisory board are warranted as there is no evidence that the boards did not fulfill their fiduciary duties in the year under review, though this is not without concerns: * The management board introduced a five-point plan, which allegedly "provides a clear path to closure of the U.S. glyphosate litigation, which will allow our company, our customers, and our shareholders to move on, put the uncertainty behind us, and focus on our performance, innovations, and contributions to society." Voting Policy Rationale: Annual incentives and granted equity for legacy Cabot Oil NEOs were predominantly based on pre-set objective metrics. Additionally, while the combined company granted the current CEO and certain other NEOs, each former Cimarex NEOs, entirely time-based equity post-merger, equity grants will revert to majority performance-based starting in 2022. However, the company materially amended the employment agreement and change-in-control agreement with its former CEO, who remains as executive chairman, without removing entitlements to excise tax gross-up payments. As such, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.

Voting Policy Rationale: A vote FOR these resolutions is warranted, although this is not without concern for shareholders: * If the Company were to issue Equity Conversion Notes (ECNs) and a trigger event were to occur, causing them to convert into ordinary shares, this would result in significant dilution to non-participating shareholders. The main reasons for support are: * Such authorities are common proposals at UK banks and are intended to apply in extreme circumstances only; and * The conversion into ordinary shares would require the CET1 ratio to fall to a level which would denote significant capital weakness well beyond the Company's current position and minimum regulatory requirements. Blended Rationale: A vote FOR these resolutions is warranted, although this is not without concern for shareholders: * If the Company were to issue Equity Conversion Notes (ECNs) and a trigger event were to occur, causing them to convert into ordinary shares, this would result in significant dilution to non-participating shareholders. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee was sufficiently responsive to last year's failed say-on-pay vote by lowering the CEO's FY22 equity grant by $10 million and making a commitment not to similarly adjust performance metrics for previously granted awards. However, pay-for-performance concerns are raised for the year in review. The committee made a sizable adjustment to free cash flow for FY21, which appears to affect the performance metrics for both the short- and long-term incentive awards, and the adjustment is not well-explained. In addition, long-term incentive awards shifted from a three-year performance period to a single, annual performance period for the two primary metrics. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote FOR the remuneration policy of Philippe Guillemot (item 14) is warranted although the following concerns are raised: * The new CEO's remuneration package shows a significant increase with little rationale; * Corporate officers are guaranteed the payment of a part of their bonuses; * The performance conditions attached to the LTIP are not guaranteed to be long-term oriented; * The performance conditions attached to the termination package are deemed to lack stringency; * The policy authorizes the post-mandate vesting of awards. The main reasons for support are: * The proposed package is broadly in line with Mr. Guillemot's past position's remuneration, justifying a higher package to attract an experienced CEO; * The LTIP does not include the ordinary shares that were subject to a problematic performance condition; * Company's past practice is for unvested preference shares to lapse; * The application of the previous CEO remuneration policy if this policy is rejected would not be considered more advantageous. A vote AGAINST the remuneration policy of Olivier Mallet (item 15) is warranted because: * The CFO is guaranteed the payment of 100% of his bonus for the period of the year he is a corporate officer. * He still benefits from the problematic part of the 2021 LTIP with ordinary shared vesting each year just for reaching EUR 8.09 (see item 12) * The policy authorizes the post-mandate vesting of awards. Blended Rationale: A vote FOR the remuneration policy of Philippe Guillemot (item 14) is warranted although the following concerns are raised: * The new CEO's remuneration package shows a significant increase with little rationale; * Corporate officers are guaranteed the payment of a part of their bonuses; * The performance conditions attached to the LTIP are not guaranteed to be long-term oriented; * The performance conditions attached to the termination package are deemed to lack stringency; * The policy authorizes the post-mandate vesting of awards. Voting Policy Rationale: There are several ongoing pay program and disclosure concerns. The company's award determinations remain discretionary, and incentive programs lack disclosed performance metrics and quantified goals. Disclosure around individual performance assessments is also poor, and the design allows for such considerations to have a potentially large impact on annual bonuses. Executives again received very large equity awards that lack performance vesting criteria. Moreover, the CEO's and COO's security costs are exceedingly large. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this item is warranted: * The former CEO received a sizable bonus award, pro-rated up to his retirement in September 2021, despite leaving the role and Company in March 2021. Further, notwithstanding his retirement agreement, there are concerns with the appropriateness of the basis of the award as a portion of the bonus was based on the former Director's previous two-year average bonus, instead of his FY2021 performance. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST this item is warranted: * The former CEO received a sizable bonus award, pro-rated up to his retirement in September 2021, despite leaving the role and Company in March 2021. 3		Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Mgmt	Yes	For	Against		Against	For	No	Yes	Yes

Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. The annual bonus was based entirely on financial metrics and did not pay out when goals were unmet. The annual equity grant largely utilizes a multi-year performance period with forward-looking goals disclosed. A concern is noted regarding the new CEO's one-time equity grant, which was relatively large with a significant portion based on time-vested equity. However, the performance component appears rigorous and the CEO's FY22 target annual grant value appears modest. Therefore, the pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated for the year in review. However, the former CEO received cash severance upon what appears to be a voluntary retirement. Cash severance is designed to protect from involuntary job loss, and payment of severance outside a termination without cause is considered a problematic pay practice.

*Voting Policy Rationale: Based on evaluation of the estimated cost, plan features, and grant practices using the Equity Plan Scorecard (EPSC), a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to the following key factors: * The equity program is estimated to be excessively dilutive (overriding factor); * The plan provides for option reloads (overriding factor); * The plan cost is excessive; * The three-year average burn rate is excessive; * The disclosure of change-in-control ("CIC") vesting treatment is incomplete (or is otherwise considered discretionary); and * The plan allows broad discretion to accelerate vesting.*

2		Approve Remuneration Report	Mgmt	Yes	For	Against		Against	For	No	Yes	Yes
Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST the remuneration report is considered warranted on account of: * Former CEO Steve Rowe's notice is set to be served on his last day of employment with the Company on 5 July 2022. However, in line with best practice, his formal notice should have commenced on 10 March 2022, when his departure was formally announced to the market. This has given rise to a "notice of notice" scenario. Concerns have also been noted – but are not being highlighted as contributory factors towards the adverse vote recommendation – that the Remuneration Committee applied discretion in granting Steve Rowe a bonus in FY2021/22, despite being under notice before the bonus payment date. Also, the salary positioning for CEO Stuart Machin and Co-CEO Katie Bickerstaffe, has been highlighted as a matter of concern, given that i) the directors effectively share the leadership role, and ii) the salary levels do not appear to appropriately acknowledge the decline in the Company's market capitalisation in recent years. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST the remuneration report is considered warranted on account of: * Former CEO Steve Rowe's notice is set to be served on his last day of employment with the Company on 5 July 2022. Voting Policy Rationale: Item 2 A vote FOR the re-election of Jean-Francois van Boxmeer is warranted, although it is not without concern because: * As Nomination Committee Chair, Jean-Francois van Boxmeer is considered responsible for incorporating sufficient diversity on the Board. It is highlighted that the Board does not comprise at least one ethnically diverse Director on the Board. The main reason for support is: * The non-compliance is a result of a NED resignation in July 2021. The Company has provided a commitment to achieve ethnic diversity, following the recommendation of the Parker Review. This will be kept under review. Items 3-14 A vote FOR these Directors is warranted as no significant concerns have been identified. Blended Rationale: Item 2 A vote FOR the re-election of Jean-Francois van Boxmeer is warranted, although it is not without concern because: * As Nomination Committee Chair, Jean-Francois van Boxmeer is considered responsible for incorporating sufficient diversity on the Board. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. CEO Nabi's pay declined for the year in review, consisting only of base salary, following her $280 million sign-on RSU award in the prior year. However, a review of the pay program reveals persistent concerning features. Specifically, NEO pay consisted primarily of base salary and equity awards that lack performance vesting conditions. Investors increasingly expect a meaningful portion of incentives to be tied to pre-set performance goals. Further, there are renewed concerns regarding high base salaries without a compelling rationale. Notably, these significant concerns for the year in review follow multiple years of problematic pay decisions at the company. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. *Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this item is warranted because: * Telefonica completed two significant transactions in 2021: the O2/Virgin joint-venture and Telxius' telecommunications towers division sale (see Material Company Updates section) for which the board rewarded both executive directors with one-off awards at maximum opportunity of 100 percent of salary. The board also considered Telefonica's outperforming the local index and sector peers in 2021. * Telefonica is the sole European telco to have a remuneration policy provision allowing for the granting of one-off awards – Deutsche Telekom's supervisory board proposes to eliminate a similar clause at the company's 2022 AGM. * Excluding this one-off award opportunity, the remuneration arrangements with management already are one of the most competitive among European peers. * Without downplaying the significance of these two transactions, these one-off awards have further misaligned executive pay with company performance in comparison with peers, including 2021's 3.69x multiple of median, while management's pay package is one of the most competitive among European peers, and Telefonica has been an underperforming stock since incumbent chair/CEO took on his position in April 2016.*

6		Approve Compensation of Yannick Bollore, Chairman of the Supervisory Board	Mgmt	Yes	For	Against		Against	For	No	Yes	Yes
Voting Policy Rationale: A vote AGAINST this remuneration report is warranted. Yannick Bollore is considered as an executive of the group by ISS due to the level and structure of his remuneration, which are comparable to those of Vivendi's management board members. His remuneration report falls short of good market practice because notably as: * Information on his short-term variable remuneration as chairman and CEO of Havas is very limited; * One of the one-off awards lacks rationale; and * Despite not being granted performance shares for the year under review, Mr. Bollore received an exceptional payment considered a replacement for the LTIP, the conditions of which appear advantageous for the corporate officers. Blended Rationale: A vote AGAINST this remuneration report is warranted. Voting Policy Rationale: Votes FOR these remuneration reports of Arnaud de Puyfontaine, Gilles Alix, Frederic Crepin, Simon Gillham, Herve Philippe and Stephane Roussel are warranted (Items 7-8, 10-13) although the following concerns are raised: * The level of details regarding the achievement on some of the non-financial bonus criteria is limited; * The level of stringency of the financial performance targets raises questions; and * The one-off remuneration awarded in place of the LTIP appears advantageous for the corporate officers. The main reasons for support are: * The transparency on the bonus performance achievement improved, * The one-off awards remain well below the cap voted in the policy. A vote AGAINST Item 9 (Cedric de Baillencourt) is warranted because: * The remunerations that he receives as executives of the Bollore Group, main shareholder of Vivendi, creates an important conflict of interest. These are neither properly tackled by the company's procedures nor likely to be balanced out by the remunerations that he receives at Vivendi; and * Given his executive functions in another listed group, the company failed to properly demonstrate the link between his activities carried out for Vivendi and the remuneration paid by Vivendi; Blended Rationale: Votes FOR these remuneration reports of Arnaud de Puyfontaine, Gilles Alix, Frederic Crepin, Simon Gillham, Herve Philippe and Stephane Roussel are warranted (Items 7-8, 10-13) although the following concerns are raised: * The level of details regarding the achievement on some of the non-financial bonus criteria is limited; * The level of stringency of the financial performance targets raises questions; and * The one-off remuneration awarded in place of the LTIP appears advantageous for the corporate officers. Voting Policy Rationale: A vote FOR these resolutions is warranted, although this is not without concern for shareholders: * If the Company were to issue Equity Convertible Notes and a trigger event were to occur, causing them to convert into ordinary shares, this would result in significant dilution to non-participating shareholders. The main reasons for support are: * Such authorities are common proposals at UK banks and are intended to apply in extreme circumstances only; and * The conversion into ordinary shares would require the CET1 ratio to fall to a level which would denote significant capital weakness well beyond the Company's current position and minimum regulatory requirements. Blended Rationale: A vote FOR these resolutions is warranted, although this is not without concern for shareholders: * If the Company were to issue Equity Convertible Notes and a trigger event were to occur, causing them to convert into ordinary shares, this would result in significant dilution to non-participating shareholders.
